

Village Manager: Village of Ossining, NY

Our Community

Ossining is an historic village located in Westchester County, approximately 30 miles north of midtown Manhattan. With a population of approximately 26,000 residents, it has the cultural diversity of a city within a 3.2 square mile footprint. The Village offers a wide range of services and attractions, including a vibrant walkable village center with an award-winning public greenway and historic architecture. The community prides itself on its rich cultural and socioeconomic diversity, as well as its natural beauty as a village of hills on the Hudson River.

The Village is an express stop on the Metro North to Grand Central Terminal, and connects across the Hudson River by ferry. The Ossining schools' science program is ranked as one of the top in the country, and the girls' basketball team is a perennial state champion.

Organization

The Village Government consists of a five-member Board, comprised of a Mayor and four Trustees. The total budget is approximately $53 million and a staff of 171 full-time employees. The Village Manager is the chief administrative officer of the Village.
