

OCCUPATIONAL ALCOHOLISM SPECIALIST

DISTINGUISHING FEATURES OF THE CLASS: Under general supervision, serves as a coordinator of special rehabilitative alcoholism programs sponsored by employers. A great deal of emphasis is placed on promoting the need for such programs with high-level business executives and officials. Responsibility also includes serving as publicist, teacher/trainer, program developer and consultant. This is not a therapist/counselor level position, but rather that of a program planner and promoter. Supervision is not a responsibility of this position, although consultative relationships exist between this position and individual program administrators in participating private agencies. Does related work as required.
