Dear Friend:

As President of the Westchester County Board of Health, I am pleased to announce that the Westchester County Board of Health is accepting nominations for the seventh annual Distinguished Public Health Service Award.

The Distinguished Public Health Service Award is presented annually during Public Health Week in early April to an individual or community-based organization that exemplified a commitment to public health and distinguished themselves in our community during the past year.

The awardees of the Distinguished Public Health Service Award represent Westchester's finest. As individuals and community agencies they have recognized the mission of public health in our county and have responded with creativity and generosity to assist the Board of Health in accomplishing its mission to promote the health of the public.

Nominations are encouraged for persons and agencies that are making a difference in promoting the mission of public health in the community. We want to recognize their achievements and honor them as role models who inspire all of us to work for the public health of Westchester's residents. Attached are brief descriptions of the past recipients of the Westchester County Distinguished Public Health Service Award.

Enclosed are nomination forms for your use and for you to forward to others who may wish to make nominations for this award. Please help us spread the word about this opportunity to recognize leaders in our community for their contributions to public health. The deadline for submission of nominations is February 11, 2008.

For more information about the nomination process or to obtain additional forms, please contact Heather McGill at (914) 813-5018.

Sincerely,
